- The fund aims to achieve long-term capital growth.
- The fund is a feeder fund and will be substantially (at least 85%) invested in Fidelity North America Equity Fund, a sub-fund of Fidelity Common Contractual Fund II (the "Master Fund"), providing exposure to a diversified portfolio at least two thirds of which will be exposed to shares or securities of companies that have their head office or a main part of their economic activity in the United States, Canada or Mexico ("North America").
- The Master Fund will seek to obtain exposure to shares of companies that will provide long-term capital growth and will not actively focus on any specific geographic region within North America, industry sector or market capitalisation.
- The Master fund may also invest on an ancillary basis, in investment grade government and corporate bonds and convertible bonds, and for cash management purposes in cash and cash equivalents.

- Income is accumulated in the share price.
- The fund is actively managed and references S&P 500 Index (Net) for comparative purposes only (the "Benchmark").

Risk and Reward Profile

- Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future.
- The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.
- The lowest category does not mean a "risk free" investment.
- The risk and reward profile is classified by the level of historical fluctuation of the Net Asset Values of the share class, and within this classification, categories 1-2 indicate a low level of historical fluctuations, 3-5 a medium level and 6-7 a high level.
- The value of your investment may fall as well as rise and you may get back less than you originally invested.
- The fund may invest in instruments denominated in currencies other than the fund base currency. Changes in currency exchange rates can therefore affect the value of your investment.
- Currency hedging may be used which aims to reduce the effect of such changes. However, the effects may not be completely eliminated to the degree expected.
